Dear Student, dear Alumni, dear Guest,

I am glad to welcome you at the GJU Job Fair 2014!

The annual GJU Job Fair intends to connect GJU students and graduates with companies in Jordan and the region in order to facilitate GJU students' start of their professional life after graduation. It is also a forum to look for internships and student's jobs and to learn more about possible career opportunities. Companies have the chance to conduct interviews with their potential employees and to recruit on-campus.

In this booklet the more than 30 participating companies are introducing themselves and will give the visitor an overview about their main fields of work and the Majors they are interested to hire. This handbook will not only guide you through the Job Fair but may be kept also as a reference for your future job search.

The Office for Industrial Links (OIL) is the unit at GJU which connects the University with the Industry on different levels. Part of our activities is to provide career service and guidance for our students and graduates and recruitment services for our industry partners.

I herewith would like to express my sincere gratitude to my colleagues of the OIL who did a wonderful job in organizing for the Job Fair, to the colleagues of the Marketing Department, the Office of King Abdullah II Fund at GJU and the colleagues of the different study departments who contributed to this event.

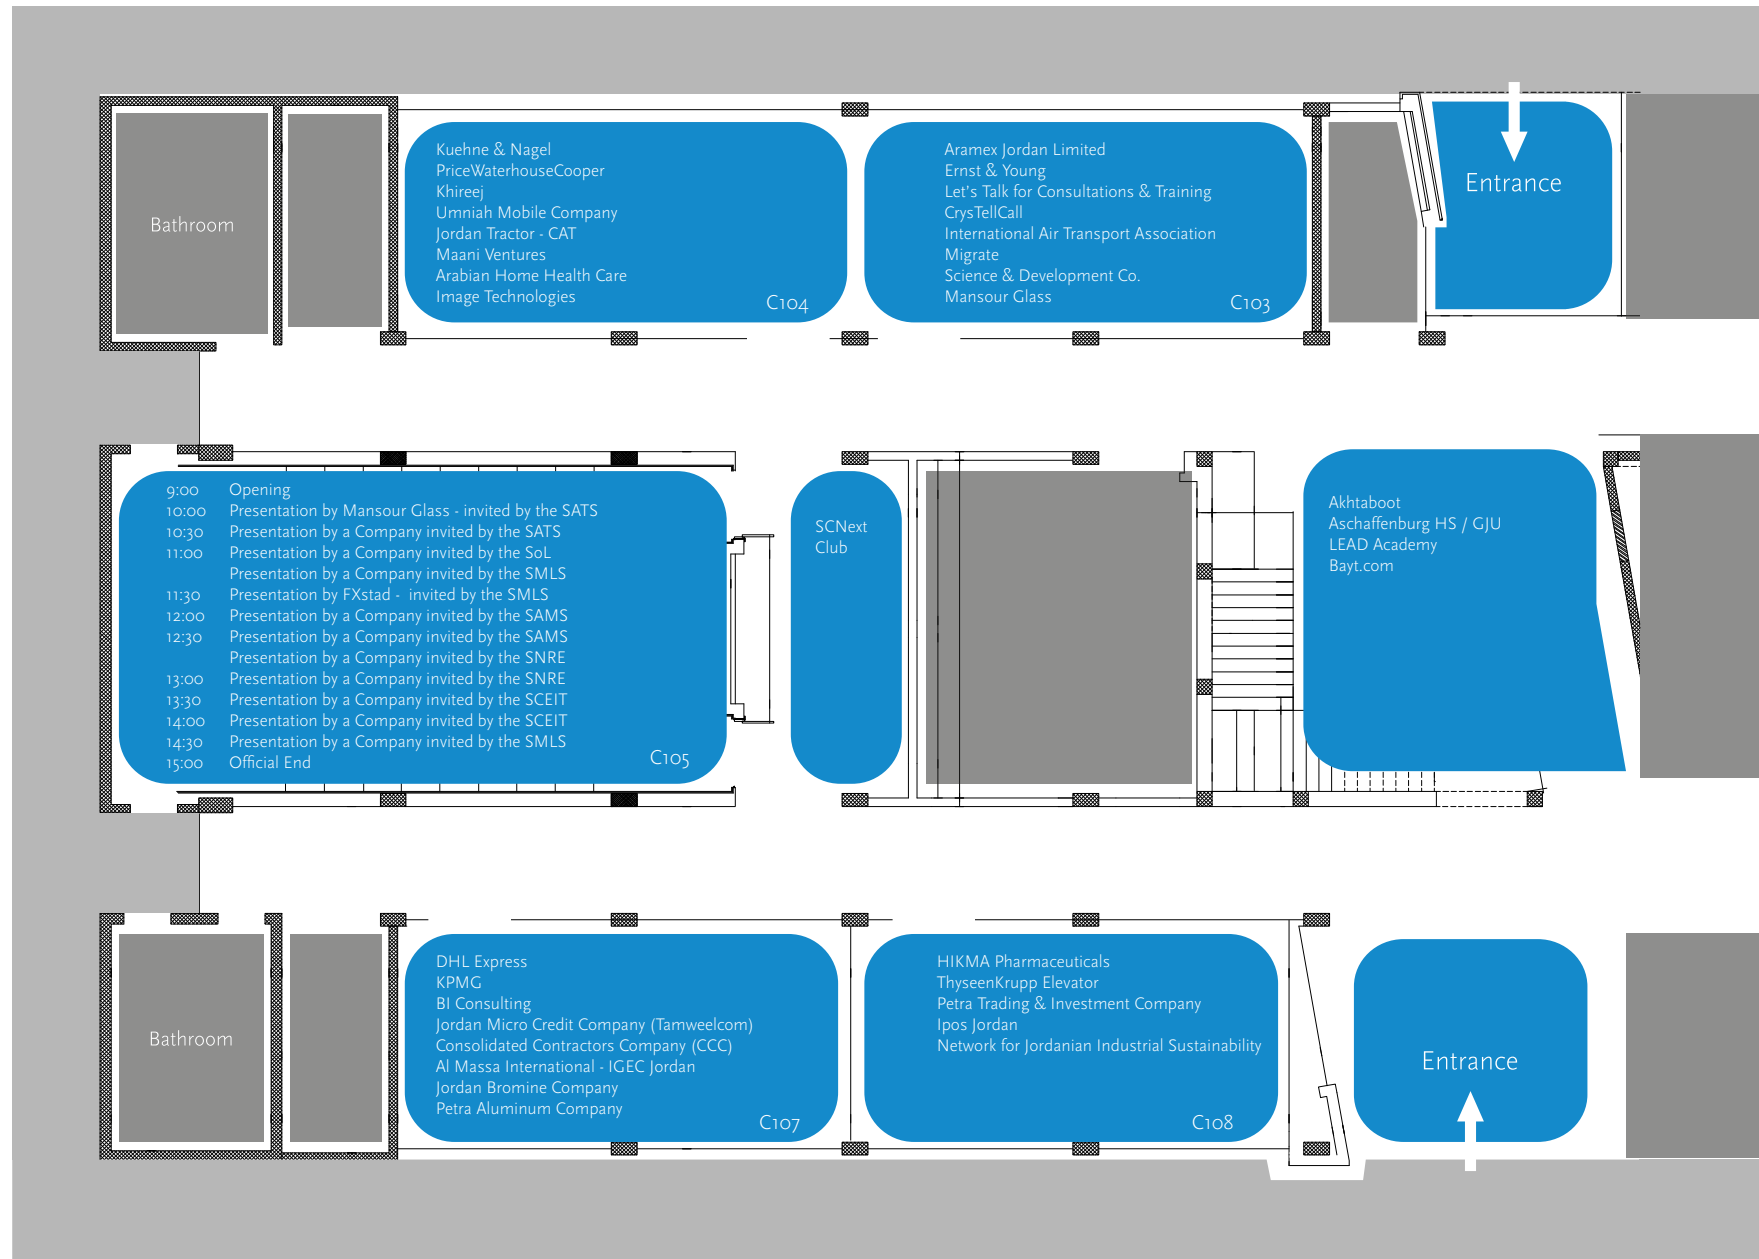

I wish all our visitors and company representatives an inspiring and successful GJU Job Fair 2014!

*Warmest regards,
Britta Kähler

Ezzat Jallad & Fils soon developed into an import/export organization for agricultural, industrial, and construction equipment.

In 1929, they acquired the Caterpillar Dealership for Lebanon, Syria, and Jordan. Franchise for other world-known products related to Cat's line of business soon followed. Since then, M. Ezzat Jallad & Fils has contributed a lot to the growth and development of the area, providing a high standard of after sales service under extremely difficult conditions and at a time when skilled mechanics and technical facilities were virtually non-existent. In order to consolidate that base for further development, the company continues to recruit and train qualified engineers, technical specialists and mechanics. This maintains the supplied equipment at its first-class operating condition.

Changes in the political structure of the Middle East over the past years have prompted M. Ezzat Jallad & Fils to re-organize into several separate companies:

In 1945, M. Ezzat Jallad S.A. (Syria) was formed with limited liability. In 1953, Jordan Tractor & Equipment Co. Ltd was established. Finally, 1995 witnessed the birth of Palestinian Tractor & Equipment Co. Ltd.

Today, the Jallad Group organization distributes agricultural, industrial, construction and earthmoving equipment to national and international companies based in Lebanon, Jordan, Syria, and the Palestinian Authority. The Jallad Group also distributes equipment to other consortia working on construction projects in the Middle East.

Brief history:

The late Izzat Subhi Mansour was the first to introduce the Glass and Mirrors profession to Jordan and Palestine in the early 1940s. He operated under the names Izzat Mansour Stores and The National Mirrors Factory, with several branches in both countries.

When Izzat Mansour passed away in 1983. His sons; Hisham, Subhi and Mohammed Zaid Mansour, took over and Mansour Industrial Complex for Glass & Mirrors was established in 1995. Situated in the capital of Amman in Al Qastal region near Queen Alia Airport, on area of 20.000 sq.m .

The first completed "Phase 1" of the factory was equipped with state-of-the-art equipment, and launched the fields of stained, fused, tempered and curved glass, modern CNC, CAD and CAM machines were introduced and raised the automation of glass manufacturing to a new level, providing designers with exceptional tools to produce unique designs and artistic products with extraordinary precision.

In the second completed "Phase 2", the need for more working space and new systems lead to an expansion in 2003. A new hangar was constructed, occupied about 2500 sq.m. which brought on the addition of a tempering furnace, lamination and heat soak systems in addition to a lecture hall that is used for conferences and presentations for both customers and managers.

In November 2009, "Phase 3" started due to increased local and international competition and the expansion of the market, Mansour Industrial Complex decided to further invest in improving itself by establishing a new factory occupying another 3000 sq.m. adding new glass manufacturing processes including Double Glaze, Mass Production Lamination and Bended Tempered Glass production lines with various Radius.

Building Brands in Jordan

ROBUST GROWTH

In 1989, Petra entered the highly competitive snacks business with the promise of delivering superior quality at competitive prices. An opportunity to apply Petra's DNA to the snacks business across Jordan was the deciding factor for Petra to enter this new industry.

Over the next decades the Hala Chips brand was introduced to Jordanian consumers and built its equity through innovative products and marketing. Today Hala's brands are part of the fabric of many Jordanian children's lives.

THE NEXT PHASE

In 1999 Procter & Gamble returned to the Near East region and chose Petra as its sole distributor. This set Petra on a mission to become the most professional and capable FMCG company in Jordan. Petra is partnering with Procter & Gamble to bring the leading FMCG brands to Jordan. The company employs over 750 professionals, and boasts of Year on Year (YoY) growth of 25% over the last decade. The portfolio of brands distributed by Petra matches its commercial success – serving over 30 unique brands across beauty and grooming household care and snacks categories.

A NEW ERA

In 2012, a new brand identity was created to reflect leadership and success, and lay a new-age foundation for the future. The new Petra logo is based on the core concept of "movement". The logo type face and the brand mark come together aesthetically in a dynamic form representing the traditional values of brand Petra.

The launch of the Company's new identity coincided with the opening of a new state of the art distribution center in Naour, Jordan.
